Legal Momentum invites you to:
Best Practices For Serving Immigrant Victims –
Training for OVW Grantees

(Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office on Violence Against Women)

This is a special two-day training open only to grantees who receive funding from the Office on Violence Against Women of the U.S. Department of Justice (OVW). The training is open to a wide range of OVW grantees and their grant partners. Conference attendees will develop and enhance skills that will help them more effectively offer assistance and legal representation to immigrant victims of domestic violence, sexual assault and trafficking. This OVW grantee training will be based on a curriculum designed to involve participants in strengthening their capacity to serve immigrant victims using the latest in adult learning principles. This training will highlight model practices found through research to be the most effective approaches to serving immigrant victims.

The funds set aside in your OVW grant may be used for travel costs associated with OVW designated technical assistance training events such as this. Staff members from all OVW grantee agencies, grant funded partners and non-grant funded partners can be funded to attend this summit from OVW grant funds. If you have any questions as to whether OVW funds may be used please contact your program specialist at the Office on Violence Against Women.

Due to a high demand for this training, registration for each training will be capped at 60 people. The content of this training will be very similar to that of the OVW immigration training held in Irvine, CA on November 7-8, 2005. As a result, first priority will be given to those who did not attend the training in Irvine. If you attended the OVW immigration training in Irvine and are still interested in attending this conference, you will be placed on a wait list.
